Calgary Wildlife Rehabilitation Society
Celebrates 30th Anniversary with Giving Tuesday Soiree.

Calgary, Alberta- In honour of 30 years of service in Southern Alberta, the Calgary Wildlife Rehabilitation Society has announced an exciting addition to its Holiday Giving Campaign on Giving Tuesday. This year, the organization will host a festive soirée in collaboration with John Fluevog Shoes to show appreciation for their supporters.

"We want to give back to our supporters and thank them for their continued support over the years, said Executive Director Beki Hunt. "Calgary Wildlife has been treating injured and orphaned wildlife for three decades, and we want to celebrate that milestone with our community."

The soirée will be held at John Fluevog Shoes on Stephen Avenue and will feature live music, snacks and drinks, a photo gallery, and swag bags.

"We are thrilled to be partnering with John Fluevog and are so grateful for their generosity, as they will be donating 50% of sales that evening to our cause", said Hunt.

Calgary Wildlife relies heavily on donations from the public to continue its mission of rehabilitating and releasing injured and orphaned wildlife and has been significantly affected by inflation and the increase in food prices this year.

"Aside from the Thank You For Supporting event on Giving Tuesday, we have an amazing silent auction that goes live on December 5th and our holiday 50/50 raffle that runs until December 30th", said Hunt.

Taking part in the year-end Holiday Campaign is just one way you can support injured and orphaned wildlife in need.
